

Inside 817 Alfred, Not Quite in West Hollywood But Almost

Images via Elizabeth Daniels

New condo building 817 Alfred is in Los Angeles, but given the slightly erratic West Hollywood borders, the neighborhood feels more like WeHo, according to sales rep Chris Hawkins. The building is also serviced by the West Hollywood Post Office, according to Hawkins. The 18-unit building just opened for sales (the project was developed by Orange County-based Sycamore Urban Properties), and Alfie joins the numerous condo projects in this area. According to Hawkins, six units are in contract. The HOAs are roughly $360 and the price list is after the jump. What's above is unit 101, a 1,650 square two-bedroom, two-bath that's asking $739,900.

Thursday, October 28, 2010